"The Hiſtory of the United States for the year 1796,"

In which the CHARGE OF SPECULATION againſt

ALEXANDER HAMILTON,

Late SECRETARY of the TREASURY, is FULLY REFUTED.

WRITTEN BY HIMSELF.

This publication preſents a conciſe ſtatement of the baſe means practiſed by the Jacobins of the United States to aſperſe the characters of thoſe perſons who are conſidered as hoſtile to their diſorganizing ſchemes. It alſo contains the correſpondence between Mr. Hamilton and Meſſrs. Monroe, Muhlenburgh and Venable, on the ſubject of the documents aforeſaid, and a ſeries of letters from James Reynolds and his wife to Mr. Hamilton, proving beyond the poſſibility of a doubt, that the connection between him and Reynolds, was the reſult of a daring conſpiracy on the part of the latter and his aſſociates to extort money.

☞ A diſcount of one third from the retail price will be made in favor of wholeſale purchaſers, for CASH. Orders to be addreſſed to Mr. YOUNG.

Saliſbury Eſtate.

THE Subſcriber, propoſing to contract his buſineſs, offers this Eſtate for ſale, on moderate terms. On it are one Blaſt and three Air Furnaces, a complete Boreing Machine, and a very good grift Mill, with two pair of ſtones; alſo a good Forge, all in perfect repair, as are all the Water Works connected with theſe various branches. The Air Furnaces were lately built for the purpoſe of caſting Cannon for this State.—There are about two thouſand acres of Land, one half of which is under wood, the other very fine arable Land, producing the beſt Hay and Paſture. The Cannon lately manufactured there, fully proves the excellency of the metal, which is ſuperior to any in this country, and probably, equal to any in the world; for not one of ſixty-nine guns lately made, although ſome of the 24 were bored into 32 pounders, have failed on proving. The ſituation is very eligible, particularly for this branch of manufacture, and a place of arms lying in the ſtate of Connecticut, and only 30 miles from ſeveral landings on the Hudſon's river, and having every advantage that can reſult from a plenty of water iſſuing from a large natural pond, very near the Furnace, and which may be converted into a variety of other uſeful purpoſes. The purchaſer can be accommodated with all the ſtock and utenſils, and have poſſeſſion on or before the firſt of June next, and preparation may be made in the mean time for going into Blaſt immediately thereafter, for every part will be delivered in good order, with ſome coal, Ore, &c. &c. For terms, apply to Mr. Joſeph Anthony, in Philadelphia; David Brooks, Eſq. one of the Repreſentatives in Congreſs for this State; Mr. David Waterman, on the premiſes, or to the proprietor in New-York.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

FRIDAY—DECEMBER 8.

Mr. THATCHER preſented the petition of Daniel Sewall, as the repreſentative of Iſaac Parſons, praying to have two Loan-Office Tickets funded, which had not been brought forward in proper time. Referred to the Committee of the whole to whom was referred the report of the Committee of Claims on the expediency or inexpediency of excepting a certain proportion of claims from the operation of the Act of Limitation.

Mr. COIT moved, that the report of the Committee of Commerce and Manufactures, made during the laſt winter ſeſſion, on the petition of Pierre Joſeph Flammend, in behalf of Louis le Guen, be referred to a Committee of the whole.—Agreed for Monday.

Mr. SPRIGG moved, that the report of a Select Committee on the petition of John Carr, which appeared in the report of the Committee of Reviſal and Unfiniſhed Buſineſs, be referred to a Committee of the whole. Agreed for Wedneſday.

Mr. THATCHER obſerved, that yeſterday there had been a reſolution laid upon the table by the gentleman from Vermont (Mr. Lyon) which he thought ought to be diſpoſed of. It propoſed a retrenchment of the unneceſſary expences of Government. Mr. T. ſaid he had obſerved that a reſolution of this kind was always brought forward in the ſeſſion preceding an election.—He did not wiſh, however, that the propoſition ſhould lie longer on the table. If it were true that the expences of Government were exceſſive, they ought immediately to ſet about retrenching them; and if it were not true, the ſooner they told the people ſo, by rejecting the motion, the better.

The queſtion for agreeing to the reſolution was put and negatived, 33 to 30.

Juſt as the Speaker was counting the votes, Mr. Lyon entered, and ſaid, had he been preſent when the queſtion was put, he ſhould have called the Yeas and Nays upon it.

Mr. COIT moved that the report of the Committee of Claims, made in January laſt, on the petition of Edward St. Loe Livermore, be referred to a Committee of the whole. Agreed for Monday.

The ſame gentleman moved a reſolution to the following effect:

"Reſolved, that the committee of ways and means be inſtructed to enquire whether any, and if any, what alterations are proper to be made in the act for laying a tax upon licences for retailing wine and ſpirits, and that they report by bill or otherwiſe."

Mr. COIT ſaid, that, as the law ſtood at preſent, licences were taken for a year from the time at which they were granted, be that time when it might, ſo that they were conſtantly becoming due. He wiſhed to have this inconvenience remedied, by putting the law upon the ſame footing with the carriage tax, the licences under which all became due at one time; as when a licence was taken, it was taken ſo as to fall due at the time fixed.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. WILLIAMS ſaid, he found in the report of the committee of reviſal and unfiniſhed buſineſs, the report of a ſelect committee on a letter from the Secretary of State, incloſing a report of the director of the mint, ſuggeſting the expediency of ſome alterations in its eſtabliſhment, to render it leſs expenſive to the public; and as he wiſhed to render that eſtabliſhment leſs expenſive, he moved that the letter and report be referred to a committee of the whole houſe.—Agreed for Wedneſday.

Mr. HARPER ſaid, that the committee to whom it was referred to report a bill for eſtabliſhing an uniform ſyſtem of bankruptcy, conceiving this ſubject to be of ſuch general concern, embracing ſo great a variety of intereſts, and a queſtion in which the meraantile affairs of the community were ſo deeply involved, that they had wiſhed him to requeſt an augmentation of the committee.

The motion was agreed to, and eleven members were added to the committee, compriſing a member from each ſtate.

No buſineſs being before the houſe (though only twelve o'clock) it adjourned till Monday, a previous motion having been paſſed for adjourning till that time, when the houſe did adjourn.

NEW-YORK, Dec. 4.

The ſecond part of the Medical Repoſitory has lately made its appearance in this city, from the preſs of Meſſrs. Swords, printers to the faculty of phyſic of Columbia College.

The firſt article is a communication from Dr. Meaſe of Philadelphia, on the Digitalis purpurea, or purple Fox Glove, as a medicinal plant, in which the writer attempts to ſhow the reaſons, why the exhibition of it has often failed of ſucceſs.

The ſecond article is from the ſame gentleman, relating to the effects of eating pheaſants * [partridges] in the ſpring of the year, when their fleſh is poiſoned, as it is ſuppoſed, by eating the berries of the Laurel. This article is of practical uſe to all deſcriptions of people; as there is real danger of eating thoſe birds from February till May. Perſons, in a few hours, after ſwallowing the fleſh that is tainted with the berries, are ſeized with giddineſs, fluſhing of the face, ſickneſs and vomiting, followed by delirium.

Two clergymen in Boſton, a few years ago, ſuffered ſeverely from the ſame cauſe.

The third article is a letter from Dr. Davidſon of Martinique to Dr. Meaſe, containing obſervations on the yellow fever in 1793. From ſome obſervations and experiments, the writer is led to aſcribe the fever in ſtrangers from a northern climate, to their imbibing an unuſual quantity of oxygene gas.

The fourth article is a ſingular caſe of a child, apparently ſcrophulous, by Dr. Hedges of Newburgh.

The fifth article is an account of the ſucceſsful application of cauſtic to a ſtricture in the urethra, by Dr. Seaman of this city.

The ſixth article is a caſe of Mania cured by the application of mercury, producing ſalivation, by Dr. Smith of this city.

The ſeventh article contains facts and obſervations of Dr. Mitchel, explaining the true operation of Alkalis and lime on other ſubſtances—in a letter to Dr. Beddoes, at the cloſe of which the philoſopher turns poet and takes a trip to Parnaſſus; and we confeſs, the Doctor on the parnaſſian ſteed, appears to be very well mounted.

The eighth article, contains ſome judicious and uſeful obſervations of Dr. Miller of this city on the effects of abſtinence in preventing or mitigating diſeaſes. We have great faith in his opinions, and firmly believe, that abſtinence, at the approach of diſeaſe would prevent much ſickneſs.

The ninth article is the caſe of change in the human liver by putrefaction, from Fourcroy.

The tenth article relates a caſe of fever ſuppoſed to be cauſed by putrid beef, by Dr. Oſborn, ſurgeon to the garriſon on Governors Iſland.

The remainder of this number of the repoſitory is occupied with a review of medical books, meteorological obſervations for July, Auguſt and September, liſt of patients admitted into the hoſpital, Medical news, concluded with an Appendix containing a letter from Dr. Mitchell to Dr. Percival of Mancheſter, on the uſe of Alkaline remedies in fevers; and an article on the uſe of nitrous acid in Syphilis, by Dr. Beddoes.

It muſt give pleaſure to the lovers of ſcience and truth, that this attempt to collect the particles of knowledge, which are ſcattered over this and other countries, and ſave them for future uſe, is in a fair way to ſucceed; and we expect this repoſitory will in time be a large and valuable magazine of medical truths and experiments.

* It is wiſhed that the people of the United States might all uſe the ſame language. The pheaſant is not known in this country. The people in the middle and ſouthern ſtates, call partridges, pheaſants; and quails, partridges. The New-England people call thoſe birds by their true Engliſh names.

Continuation of Late Foreign News,
By the Britiſh Packet.

LONDON, Oct. 2.

The following is a letter from a naval officer (late a priſoner in France) to his friend in Greenock, dated on board his Majeſty's ſhip Impeteux, Torbay, 16th, ultimo:

"On the ſtocks in the different building-yards at L'Orient, four ſhips of 74 guns each; one of which was ready for launching, a ſecond nearly ſo, the other two only in the frames, and no workmen about them. In the harbor one large frigate fitting for ſea with the greateſt expedition, deſtined for the Eaſt-Indies, and will be ready for ſea in ten days. There were likewiſe a great number of privateers fitting for ſea with no leſs diſpatch; one of them mounted 28 guns, and would ſail in a few days; her cruiſing latitude was from 49 to 25 N. and from 19 to 10 W. While I remained in L'Orient, ſix privateers ſailed, although the ſignal was flying every day in the dock yard for a Britiſh ſquadron on the coaſt. I was told by the merchants at L'Orient, that they could ſend to ſea from the different ports in France, from 400 to 500 privateers, and that they did not mind loſing a few of them; they flattered themſelves that one Britiſh merchantman would make up the loſs of a dozen of their ſmall craft; indeed the crews of theſe veſſels prepare themſelves to be captured, by taking no clothes with them but what they have on their backs, and one change.

"I left L'Orient on the 8th of Auguſt, and arrived at Breſt in three days afterwards. There were in that harbour four ſhips of the line, two of which are three-deckers, and two two-deckers, viz. l'Invincible, and l'Ocean, of 100 guns each, the Berwick 74 and Jupiter 80 guns, and two frigates and a corvette, all ready for bending their ſails, except the Berwick, which had her top-maſt an end, none of them well manned. There were on the ſtocks one of 140 guns, Le Vengeur, in the frames, but no people employed on her, one of 80 guns in the ſame ſtate, and two frigates. In the docks four of 80 guns, and two of 74, but no men employed about them, three of which were in the engagement of the 1ſt June 1794, viz. L'Aigle, Trajan, and Tyrannicide; and have not been at ſea ſince. There were in the Inner Road 16 ſail of the line, viz. two of three decks, and three flags, the flag ſhips are La Terrible and Le Republicain of 100 guns each, and L'Indomptable of 74 guns; nine of them had their ſails bent, and in a ſtate of readineſs for ſea; the others are not half manned, and nothing but diſcontent prevails among the ſeamen, on account of want of wages. In the Outer Road there were lying at anchor two ſhips of the line, four frigates, one corvette, and a lugger, all ready for ſea; they were to be joined by four ſhips of the line and two frigates from the Inner Road, and were to proceed to ſea in a few days, but I could not learn their deſtination.

"I was informed, by a perſon at Breſt, on whoſe information I could place a little dependence, that the French were making preparations for a deſcent on Ireland and Scotland this winter, for which purpoſe they had 40,000 men in the neighbourhood of Breſt ready to embark. I ſaw part of the troops at exerciſe on a grand parade day, in the city; they expect that this armament before ſailing, will be joined by the Spaniſh and Dutch fleets."

A letter from an officer in the Orion, of 74 guns, dated Sept. 1, has been received here this morning; by this letter we learn, that the Orion had been at Gibraltar to water, where they lay ten days; when they came away an attack on the town was daily expected from the Spaniards, who ſeemed to be making formidable preparations for that purpoſe. Flags of truce are continually paſſing between the commanders at Cadiz and lord St. Vincent, and a report was prevalent in the fleet, that the guillotine has raiſed its direful head in ſundry places of Spain.

October 3.

The Dutch papers to the 25th ult. ſtate that an offenſive and definitive alliance has been concluded between the Batavian Republic and the court of Madrid, on which they engage to act in concert during the preſent war. The king of Spain, as a proof of his ſincerity, has promiſed to indemnify the Dutch merchants for the detention of their ſhips in the years 1779, 1780 and in 1781.

A Britiſh veſſel, the cargo of which was valued at 60,000l. was lately ſeized on the Barbary coaſt by ſix Portugueſe, part of the crew, while the maſter proceeded to Ceuta for proviſions. They had taken ſhelter in one of the ports on that coaſt, but were purſued, and probably ere this taken.

The three Spaniſh Prelates who have been ſo long upon a miſſion at Dome, have left that city, upon their return to Madrid, carrying with them the ſanction of his Holineſs for the reform of the Spaniſh Inquiſition, the reſtriction upon religious foundations, &c. The Inquiſition in Spain is not totally aboliſhed, as has been reported.

Though in none of the papers produced by the Triumvirs in order to ſubſtantiate the charge of a Conſpiracy, the leaſt mention is made either of Carnot or Barthelemy, yet it is eaſily conceived, how extremely important it was for the Triumvirate to get rid of theſe two Directors.—Both, and eſpecially Carnot, could not but be intimately acquainted with the ſecret of the actual Conſpiracy of the Triumvirs againſt the Legiſlative Body, and of the meaſures planned for the deſtruction of the new Third. In order to blot out every trace of the traiterous ſcheme, nothing could be more convenient than to murder one and to tranſport the other to a diſtant country, in the paſſage to which he may perhaps find his death in ſome means or other, in the manner of Carrier's downings at Nantes.

In reſpect to the Fact of Carnot's aſſaſſination, whether by the hands of Barras, or of two Myrmidons whom the Triumvirate had placed in the Gallery of the Luxembourgh to do the deed, as he paſſed from the Council chamber of the Directory, after refuſing to give his aſſent to the plan of the late revolution, there is no doubt of the murder, nor of the perſons who gave the order for it—the truth will come out. Carnot's Brother is alſo ſuppoſed to have been aſſaſſinated.

This morning we received the Paris Journals down to the 30th ult. of which the following are the principal contents.

The moſt remarkable information in the French papers, is the appearance of a counter revolution in Poland, about to commence under the auſpices of Buonaparte. To that effect he has written to Count Potocki, formerly ambaſſador at Conſtantinople from Poland. The French General earneſtly ſolicits the ſpeedy aſſemblage of the Marſhals and Chiefs of the Diet of 1791 at Milan. The exiled Poles, driven from their country on account of the laſt inſurrection in Poland and who have lately reſided in Paris, have left the latter place, by invitation, for Italy.

October 4.

The lateſt advices from Admiral Duncans fleet off the Texel, give the following information.—"By a Daniſh ſhip, which left the Texel yeſterday [Sept. 26], we have obtained information, that in conſequence of ſome ſerious miſunderſtanding between the Dutch and French, the Dutch ſailors had refuſed to go to ſea, when the Admiral made the ſignal to weigh; upon which moſt of the officers had their baggage ſent on ſhore; and very ſoon after they followed it themſelves. Their tranſports have been removed from the outward to the inner road, and the troops are diſembarked."

A young captain (of great military talents, no doubt, though not quite twelve years of age) was aſked the other day, what regiment he belonged to? The —— of light dragoons." "Are you ſure you're not miſtaſten?" ſaid an elderly gentleman in company—"I ſhould rather ſuppoſe you belong to the light infant-ry!"

Madame Carnot, with her children, now reſide at the houſe of a relation near Arras.

We are intreated not to confound the ſeducer of Miſs King with a gentleman who is generally known by the name of Flying Fitzgerald, and who wounded Harvey Aſton in a duel about ſix years ago, in conſequence of a diſpute at Ranelagh.

Maj. Wood, who was ſecond to the hon. col. King in a late duel, is nearly related to the family of lord Kingſborough.

Colonel Fitzgerald is half-brother to lady Kingſborough. His father's ſecond wife was her ladyſhip's mother.

The unfortunate Miſs K—— is deſcribed, by thoſe who are acquainted with her, to be one of the fineſt young ladies in this country.

A baronet at the weſt end of the town has, within theſe few days, been diſcovered by his lady in an amour with his cook.—The enraged miſtreſs beat the peccant fair one ſo ſeverely with the heel of her ſhoe, that it is ſuppoſed ſhe will loſe the ſight of one of her eyes.

Why Sir Benjamin Hammet ſhould decline the honours of the civic chair, it is rather puzzling to conjecture. Now that certain parliamentary regulations have permitted him to repoſe from the endleſs toil of ſranking, ſurely the leiſure he has been thus indulged in, might as diſinterſtedly be devoted to feaſting for the public good. Nor can we be induced to believe, as has been malicioufly inſinuated, that his reluctance to enter on the duties of the digeſtive directorſhip can poſſibly ariſe from any dread of its being a loſing employment; on the contrary, according to an experienced writer, he will then be entitled, as alderman, eſpecially as city chief, to make a trade of his eating, and, like a cock, to ſcrape while he feeds.

The privateer L'Intrepide, belonging to Nantz has ſent into Minden the Mary, an American brig, laden with ſugar, coffee, cotton and pepper. The privateer fell in with two American veſſels, on their way home, with 450 paſſengers from Ireland on board.

Storace and Braham are now termed the two Canaries, from the circumſtance of thoſe amorous warblers being ſhut up in a cage!

OFFICE OF THE MINISTER OF MARINE.
(From the French papers.)

The privateer La Repriſe, from St. Jean-de-Luz, mounting two guns and eight ſwivels, after three attempts to board, and an engagement which laſted five hours, has captured a Portugueſe ſhip, named the Caroline, of 400 tons, carrying ſix 12, 8, and 6 pounders, and copper bottomed, returning from Fernambuc to Oporto, with 6000 quintals of ſugar, 242 bales of cotton, 2135 cow hides, 421 logs of wood for furniture, and 1900 cow horns. This rich veſſel has been carried into Vigo. The captain of the privateer is citizen Lavagne, 80 years of age, who took on him the command of the privateer in lieu of his ſon, detained on ſhore by ſickneſs.

The privateer La Mouche, belonging to Rochelle, has carried into port an Engliſh prize, the cargo of which is eſtimated at 1,700,000 livres. This privateer has alſo captured two Portugueſe veſſels.

The privateer Le Caſtor, belonging to St. Maloes, captain Leredda, has captured the Reſolution, belonging to Limerick, laden with ſalt, and has carried her into Roſcoff.

The privateer Le Lazare Hoche, belonging to Breſt, has ſent into L'Orient, the Ohio, of 300 tons, laden with pitch, tar, wood for building, cotton, &c. under American colours.

The privateer Le Voltigeur, belonging to Calais, has captured and ſent off the Uhe, the Engliſh brig the Reſolution, captain Long, from Memel, laden with timber for building.

The privateer l'Enterprize, belonging to Nantz, has ſent into Minden an Engliſh veſſel named the Grace, of 460 tons, on her paſſage from Liſbon with a cargo of ſalt. The ſame privateer has ſent into the river of Nantz the American ſhip the Light Horſe laden with beer and other commodities.

An Engliſh galliot, laden with 74 pipes and 150 caſes of Fort wine, bound to Gibraltar, has been captured by ſome French veſſels, and ſent into Cologne.

The privateer l'Aigle, belonging to L'Orient, has entered that port with the Raven, an American veſſel of 300 tons, laden with ſugar, cotton, nankeens, &c.

The privateer L'Entreprenant, belonging to Dieppe, captain Black, has carried into Cherbourg an Engliſh brig named the Hope, which ſhe cut out of the road of Guernſey. She is laden with wine, brandy and gin.

From the Whitehall Evening Poſt of Oct. 7.

ABRIDGEMENT OF THE STATE OF POLITICS, FOR THIS WEEK.

We have not been informed of any thing remarkable, in the courſe of the preſent week, in the interior of France. The Directory muſt, no doubt, be buſily occupied in filling up the vacancies occaſioned by their late violent proceedings in the Councils. Indeed it muſt, we are afraid, be a long time before any thing very remarkable can happen in that humbled kingdom; in which as complete a tyranny ſeems, for the preſent, to prevail as ever exiſted, and in which the very voice of liberty is not heard. The people, wearied of fruitleſs efforts for the reſtorarion of tranquility, and afraid of the Directory, conſults every one his own ſafety.—Such are the fruits of jacobiniſm! the innovations of viſionary politicians! the ſticklers for the rights, but the deſpiſers and violators of all the duties of man!—The French revolution muſt be allowed, at the ſame time, to be a warning to kings, as well as to the people; for altho' the prince on whom the ſtorm broke, had this world been a place for an equal diſtribution of rewards and puniſhments, would have been ſecured from ſuch extreme calamities by the innocence of his life, and the ſincerity of his devotion; the elements of that ſtorm were prepared for ages, in the oppreſſion and the profuſion of his predeceſſors on the throne, and in thoſe unfortunate councils by which he was, ſoon after the commencement of his reign, and without experience of the expence of war and the inconſtancy of affairs drawn in to take a ſhare in the conteſt between America and Great Britain.—The appearance of Flags of Truce and frequent meſſengers from France, with diſpatches addreſſed, not to lord Grenville, the miniſter of this country for foreign affairs, but to Lord Malmeſbury, has been conſidered by ſome as an indication, on the part of the Directory, of a diſpoſition to Peace, and a wiſh to renew, or rather to continue the negociation, which, they think, has never been entirely broken off. But to this conjecture we oppoſe the actual breaking up of the conferences at Liſle, and the intereſt of the preſent rulers of France to carry on the ſyſtem of war and plunder—to go on with pillage and conqueſt—to make their neighbours pay for the maintenance of armies, by which they keep themſelves in power, trample on their own countrymen, and harraſs all the nations around them.—Nothing new has tranſpired on the ſide of nor yet have we been informed of what has taken place at Udina, the ſeat of negociation in farther than the greateſt military preparations are ſtill on foot on both ſides. Buonaparte, who takes his aims from afar, and is ſubtle and profound in his views, and in his reſources moſt fertile and various, appears to have had a deſign to amuſe the enemy by making a ſhew of a wiſh on his part and an expectation of peace, while he ſeemed anxious above all things to ſettle his new republics. The Emperor was not indeed lulled into ſecurity; but it will be difficult to eſcape ſome ſnare that lies hid under the open proceedings of the Italian, and not an adventurer from another country. Two circumſtances, relative to the probable deſigns of Buonaparte, have lately drawn univerſal attention. He humours, flatters, and courts the

and he ſhews an intention of taking under his protection the cauſe of the Poliſh nation. This is certainly placing France in the ſituation ſhe was wont to hold in the chain of political powers; the ally of the Turks, and the Poles, united with the Turks in hoſtility to Auſtria and Ruſſia. But the is the tyrant of Poland, is the ally of France. How is this matter to be arranged? His Pruſſian Majeſty is ſick, and according to all accounts, drawing near his end.

THE DUTCH SAILORS,

have lately given a proof of their attachment to the Stadtholder in refuſing to weigh anchor and ſail out of the harbour under Admiral Winter. The cauſe of the Stadtholder does not by any means appear to us to be deſperate; though it is better to give way for a time, and wait for favorable opportunities, than to attempt any ſchemes for reſtoration by force of arms.

FRANKFORT, Sept. 16.

In the fair of this city, many French emigrants of diſtinction kept ſhops; their commodities were for the moſt part, the produce of their own induſtry.

ITALY, September 28.

The French have ſet up a printing preſs on the iſland of Corſu.

At Genoa the ex-patrician Spinola, who has been envoy at Paris and London, as alſo Rivarola, who has been envoy in the latter city, have been declared emigrants, and their effects confiſcated. The ſame has been decreed at Venice againſt Moroſini, late inſpector general of the Venetian troops; he has alſo been burned in effigy.

The famous Dondolo, an apothecary, is gone to general Buonaparte at Udina, to make ſome new propoſition relative to Venice.

The Neapolitan prince Paterno, who ſailed from Sicily to Naples, in a ſhip which had above 200,000 ducats on board, in jewels and valuable commodities, has been taken by a Tuniſian corſair, and carried into Tunis. The Neapolitan court has diſpatched a courier to Conſtantinople on the occaſion, and the Spaniſh envoy at Tunis has taken the prince under his protection as a grandee of Spain.

The peſtilential diſtemper that prevails in Corſica was brought by a Turkiſh ſhip that was ſtranded on the iſland. Some of the people of the coaſt ran to pick up the goods from the wreck, though the Turks called to them that the plague was on board; this, however, did not reſtrain them, and the conſequence was that 100 perſons died in the town of Murgo. A ſtrict cordon is now drawn round the infected country.

MILAN, September 9.

Though the German papers have ſtated that the Imperial troops occupy the whole of Venetian Dalmatia, it is certain that the nature of the country, and the character of the inhabitants, oppoſe great obſtacles to that invaſion; and admitting even the ſuppoſition of peace, the poſſeſſion of the Auſtrians will not remain long tranquil. It cannot be diſſembled, that the new acquiſitions of the houſe of Auſtria muſt be of the greateſt importance to its commerce and its revenue; and the intereſt which it has in preſerving them, and inſuring their peaceable enjoyment, inclines us to believe that the Emperor would not expoſe himſelf to the chances of war, which cannot but be diſaſtrous to him.

The population of Iſtria amounts at preſent to no more than 140,000; but, under a good government, it would ſoon increaſe to half a million. This province has about a dozen of ports, ſeveral of which are much ſuperior to that of Trieſt. The ports of Roſſa, Queto, and Pola, are capable of containing the moſt conſiderable fleets, and the ſoil of the country is ſuſceptible of every ſpecies of cultivation. The wines and the oils of Iſtria have a great reputation.

Venetian Dalmatia contains about 300,000 inhabitants. Rara, Sebeniſco, Spolatra, and Macarſca, are the chief points of communication with European Turkey, which ſupplies Dalmatia with pitch, wax and wheat.

We have read with much pleaſure the report made by the committee of publicſafety to the proviſional municipality of Venice, on the political and commercial ſituation of Venice, and which is addreſſed to the Ciſalpine republic, and to all the French people of Italy.—This report contains a ſtatement of the public debt, and the reſources of Venice; preſents a beautiful perſpective of its maritime power; and finally demonſtrates, under every relation, the utility of an union with the Ciſalpine republic.

General Buonaparte has preſented 300 muſquets to the Venetian national guard. Venice, after the example of Breſcia, is about to form a regiment of youths between twelve and fifteen years of age, who, thus exerciſed during their infancy in the profeſſion of arms, will acquire a taſte for it, and form a nurſery of warriors diſciplined, and capable of being employed every where.

The French have required of this country eight millions of livres for the ſupport of their army, which ſum will for the moſt part be levied on the capitaliſts and the clergy. Our republic has mortgaged to general Buonaparte nearly half the Duchy of Mantua, lying on the right banks of the rivers Oglio and Po a part of Breſcia, and ſome valleys bordering on the Tyrol. The city and fortreſs of Mantua is not, however, included.

BOSTON, December 2.

THE UNIVERSITY AT CAMBRIDGE,

Says a correſpondent, is in a more flouriſhing ſituation than at any period ſince its exiſtence. The viſiting committee from the board of overſeers has for a conſiderable time paſt expreſſed their warm approbation of the ſtate of things in this important ſeminary. It muſt be pleaſing to the parents and friends of theſe young gentlemen to hear that there has not been a public cenſure paſſed on any ſcholar for more than four years, conſequently on none that is now in college.—It is a fact that many of theſe young men have during the paſt ſeaſon, been five and ſix hours in a day, either hearing lectures from the different profeſſors, or reciting to their Tutors. There never was a period when there exiſted a greater harmony between the governors and governed, between the teacher and pupil. It is alſo a fact, which the whole town of Cambridge can teſtify, that ſince the bridges have been built over Charles-River, there has been leſs noiſe and riot after ſun ſet about college, than ever was known before. The increaſed and ſtill increaſing number of lectures ſeem to have opened new proſpects to theſe ſtudents, and to occupy their minds ſo agreeably as to leave little inclination for riot and diſorder. It may be ſaid with truth, and therefore it ought to be ſaid, that the preſent ſet of ſtudents at Cambridge do honor to themſelves and to the college.

PROVIDENCE, (R. I.) Dec. 2.

A letter has been received here from Mr. William Magee, of this town, dated at ſea about 25 days ſince, which informs, that the ſhip Eliza, capt. William Page, of this port had been attacked in the Streights of Banca by a Prow, when capt. Page, Thomas Page, ſeaman, and a Dutch Linguiſt, were unfortunately killed. By the bravery of the crew, the nativee were beat off, and the Eliza had ſailed for Manilla.

NEW-YORK, December 8.

Carnot, it is ſaid, informed Barthelemy, on the 3d of September, of the ſcheme plotted by the Triumvirs to arreſt them, and propoſed to prevent the execution of this plan, by denouncing them to the councils. He took upon himſelf to cauſe the Triumvirs to be arreſted that night for which purpoſe he had prepared every neceſſary meaſure. Barthelemy more accuſtomed to the quiet proceedings of diplomatic buſineſs, than to the violent movements of the revolution, could not convince himſelf of the reality of the plot of the triumvirate, and rejected the propoſed meaſure.

The French ſeem to have copied the Romans, ſervilely and abjectly, in retaining many particulars in their new conſtitution, which it was thought worth a revolution to remove from the old; and leaving out the good parts of their model, which made its defects leſs glaring, and compenſated for its want of perfection in the whole. Like the firſt conſuls, they have increaſed the vectigalia of Tyranny, and kept the inſignia of royal power, but omitted to provide for the exerciſe of religion, and forgot to be noble, generous, and magnanimous.

[Lond. Pap.]

The Abbe of Bologna lately preached a ſermon to the church of St. Roch, in which he aſſured his congregation, "It was uſeleſs for them to deceive themſelves any longer; and that the Catholic religion is incompatible with a democratic government."—This is a new proof of the endleſs errors into which they plunge themſelves by following theories. In the United States we find that the Catholic religion harmonizes as well with a republican government, as any other.

LONDON, October 6.

The Earl of Mornington embarks for Bengal on board La Virginie frigate, in which alſo Sir John Anſtruther takes his paſſage—la Virginie is expected to touch at Madraſs, in her way to Fort William.

Accounts from the Hague give the following particulars of the late inſurrection in the fleet in the Texel:—Several battalions being ſent on ſhore for their ill-behaviour, admiral Winter ſent for their officers on board his ſhip, and aſked them whether they choſe to go to the Weſt-Indies, or reſign their ſituations? Upon their aſking if any order exiſted for that end, and expreſſing their willingneſs to obey it, the order was produced and they were further enjoined to repreſent the ſame to the troops. Accordingly, a Colonel went on board a tranſport, which had two Companies; but he had ſcarcely time to inform them of the order, when they fixed their bayonets, and accuſed the Colonel of being the Author, of the order. Theſe two companies were then ſent on ſhore, where they were diſarmed by a body of Chaſſeurs appointed to receive them—Six of the former were ſeized by order of admiral Winter, and ordered to be hanged up without any further proceſs; the ſentence was immediately executed upon two of them. Much doubt was expreſſed reſpecting the loyalty of thoſe forces which ſtill remained on board the ſhips.

The Virginie frigate ready for ſea in every reſpects, and will certainly, wind and weather permitting, ſail for Madras and Bengal in the courſe of next week.

PHILADELPHIA,

SATURDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 9.

Yeſterday, the Houſe of Repreſentatives of this State, according to the order of the day, proceeded to the choice of their printers. The votes for the printer of the Journals, were an equal number for Meſſrs. Hall and Sellers and Meſſrs. F. and R. Bailey; the deciſion was therefore poſtponed till tomorrow. Mr. Bradford was choſen printer of the bills, and Mr. Bilmeyer, of Germantown, for the German printing.—The committee appointed to wait upon the Governor, reported that he would make his Communications to both Houſes, in the Senate Chamber, this day, at twelve o'clock. At twelve o'clock the houſe adjourned till this day at eleven.

Died—At Sharon Maſſachuſetts, Nov. 22 the Rev. PHILLIP CURTIS, Æt. 81, and 56th year of his miniſtry. This Divine admitted to the Church 261 communicants, officiated at every communion for more than 55 years; baptized 916 perſons and married 336 couple. Of his ſociety 420 have died. That eſteem and veneration towards him which had been maturing for more than half a century, was by his pariſhioners and others manifeſted at his funeral, by the reſpect ſhewn to his memory.

——At Litchfield, Connecticut, on monday the 27th Nov. the Hon. ANDREW ADAMS, Eſq. Chief Judge of the Superior Court; aged 61 years.

To the Editor of the Gazette of the U. States.

SIR,

Among the papers lately read in congreſs concerning Mr. Blount, there was one which the ſhort-hand writers have reported as "endorſed by Judge Turner." I feel it incumbent on me to obſerve, that that paper was altogether in Mr. Blount's hand writing. He wrote it in my preſence, from anſwers I made to certain queſtions he propounded. It contained notes concerning Upper Louiſiana, where I ſpent part of the winter of 1794-5. It will not be deemed requiſite by thoſe who know me, to obſerve further, that I was not aware, when thoſe notes were taken, of any improper uſe intended to be made of them. I ſhould readily have given the ſame information to any other perſon profeſſing, as Mr. Blount did, a deſire to collect facts reſpecting the interior of North America.

G. TURNER.

Philad. Dec. 8th, 1797.

MR. FENNO,

The publication from Alexandria of the number of veſſels captured by the French belonging to that town, is an example that ought to be followed by all the ſea-ports in the United States. The annals of naval depredations do not furniſh ſuch inſtances of outrage and lawleſs plunder, and this perpetrated without the ſmalleſt pretext—pretext did I ſay! the French government are under the higheſt obligations to the people and government of the United States. This can be made to appear by a recital of facts innumerable. The treatment we have received is a moſt ſerious leſſon to our country; it fully proves that whatever men may pretend, thoſe who call themſelves republicans, will prey on thoſe who are really ſo, whenever they have power to do it. The magnitude of our loſſes by the French ought to be known. It will account for that diſtreſs in which ſo great a number of perſons are involved at the preſent time. It will ſerve to convince the people of this country, who have been ſo often inſulted with the words national gratitude, that they muſt look to themſelves and their own reſources, for juſtice and protection from lawleſs violence.

To the Inhabitants of the United States.

SINCE the knowledge of medicine, none has ever proved so astonishingly efficacious, so universally esteemed, or to which the afflicted with Rheumatisms, Gout, Rheumatic Gout, Lumbago, Palsy, Sprains, Bruises and Chilblains, may look for relief with so much confidence, as Whitehead's essence of Mustard.

This extraordinary Medicine very soon affords the wished for relief, "even to the aged in cases the most desperate." For these substantial reasons it is patronised by all ranks of people in England.

From the great number of communications constantly received by Mr. JOHNSTON, he is under the necessity (in laying them before the WORLD) of abridging their contents; the following lettters (although curtailed) are so very important, and the signatures so very respectable, that he conceives he should be doing injustice to Whitehead's Essence of Mustard, were he to withhold them from public inspection.

Letter from Mrs. Mills, Housekeeper to the Duke of Cumberland.

Sir, Nov. 1, 1795.

A most inveterate Rheumatism and Lumbago (occasioned by laying in a damp bed, when at Brussels, in the suit of Her Royal Highness the Dutchess of Cumberland) has afflicted me eighteen years. I have employed the first medical gentlemen in London, and (although I derived no benefit) am bound to acknowledge my gratitude to several of the nobility, who knew my deplorable situation, and humanely sent me their physicians; I have also tried most advertised medicines. At length, sir, after eighteen years excruciating torture, a few bottles of your Whitehead's Essence of Mustard, have, I thank God, restored me to the inestimable blessings of health and permanent ease.

Yours, much obliged,

No. 134, Jermyn-street, St. James's. S. MILLS

Copy of a letter from G. Countess, esq. Captain of His Majesty's Ship the Decaius.

Sir, Spithead, Nov. 8, 1795.

As I expect to sail in a few days, I beg you will immediately forward me a dozen of Whitehead's Essence of Mustard. It gives me considerable satisfaction to inform you, I have myself experienced its good effects, and have in several instances of Rheumatisms, Sprains, and Bruises, witnessed its astonishing efficacy. I think you would consult your own interest by appointing it to be sold at Portsmouth, and all other seaports; for you may rest assured, when this invaluable specific becomes generally known, not an Officer in His Majesty's Navy will go to sea without it.

Yours, &c.

G. COUNTESS.

Sir, Dec. 20, 1795.

A severe stroke of the Palsy, six months ago, deprived me of my speech, and the use of one side. In this desperate situation, Whitehead's Essence of Mustard was very strongly recommended, and, I thank God as successfully applied. By persevering in its use a short time, I was completely restored, and continue to enjoy the full and perfect use of my faculties, although near eighty years of age.

Yours, W. FRANCIS,

No. 14, Arabella-row, Pimlico.

 Mr. Francis has held a public situation at the Guildhall in the city of Westminster, many years, and is well known to the generality of the respectable inhabitants.

Letter from A. McCan Esq. Capt. of the 60th regiment, dated Fort George, Guernsey,

Sir, Jan. 4, 1797

Upwards of five years past I have been afflicted with a most violent Rheumatic Affection in my head, which has baffled the skill of the most eminent Physicians; some months since I was induced to try your Whitehead's Essence of Mustard. I am now happy to inform you, it has done me essential service, and I think it necessary to declare, no other medicine ever gave me the smallest degree of relief.

I am with regard, yours, &c. &c.

Capt. 60th Regt. A. McCAN.

August, 1795:

Mr. Middleton, of Chesterfield-street, St. Mary-le-bone was so severely afflicted with the Rheumatic Gout, as to be unable to move in my bed for six months; his limbs were enormously swelled, and at length from excessive pain became quite black. In this distressing situation he was induced to try your Whitehead's Essence of Mustard; the effect far exceeded the most sanguine expectation, his pain was immediately alleviated, and his limbs returned to their natural colour; his appetite restored, and in a very short time he was enabled to leave his bed and walk with crutches; and by a few weeks perseverance, was completely restored to the full enjoyment of perfect health.

 Mr. Middleton, with his son, repeatedly called as he got better, on Mr. Johnston, and declared that his life was utterly despaired of.

Respected Sir, Nov. 6. 1795.

Passing by a croud, in the fifth month of her pregnancy, my wife received a dreadful blow on her side, which apparently destroyed the life of the infant; after the most skilful advice, and trying various remedies for two months, she still found the symptoms increase to an alarming degree; spitting of blood—shortness of breath—and other disagreeable circumstances appeared from so violent a bruise, afforded only the fatal appearance of her speedy dissolution.——A friend to whom I related her sad case, having experienced great benefit from your Whitehead's Essence of Mustard, kindly presented me with a bottle; to my unspeakable satisfaction, it spedily relieved her from pain; a second bottle has removed every disagreeable symptom, and with the most heartfelt gratitude I inform you, we have the happy prospect of her long continuing a living mother to our numerous family.

Yours, &c. T. HURLOCK.

Whitmore's-row, Haxton.

JOHNSTON, Apothecary, no 20, Greek street, Soho, London; and is also sold by his appointment, wholesale and retail, by G. SHAW, & Co. no. 129, Chesnut-street, Philadelphia, who have just received a large quantity, per the William Penn, and to whom, persons desirous of vending, are desired to apply.

CHILBLAINS.

Whitehead's Essence of Mustard generally cures Chilblains and common Rheumatisms, on the first or second application, and often removes the most violent Sprains and Bruises, in two or three days.

Caution.—A Certificate is pasted on each bottle and box, and to prevent the danger of counterfeits, another certificate is also signed by G. Shaw & Co. of Philadelphia.

SHAW & Co. have also imported by the William Penn, a quantity of Gowland's Lotion for the face and skin—Balsam of Honey for coughs, asthmas and consumptions—Church's Cough Drops, and a variety of other Patent Medicines.

English Grammar,

The second edition, with improvements,

ADAPTED to the different classes of learners; with an appendix, containing rules and observations for assisting the more advanced students to write with perspicuity and accuracy,

BY LINDLEY MURRAY.

"This is a publication of much merit, and fully answers the professions in the Title. The appendix contains some of the best rules for writing elegantly, and with propriety, that we recollect to have seen."

Monthly Review, July 1796.

"This Grammar is, on many accounts entitled to commendatory notice, its materials have been carefully and judiciously selected; its arrangement is distinct and well adapted to the purpose of instruction and its expression is simple, perspicuous and accurate, &c."

See the character at large in the Analytical Review, July 1796.

English Exercises,

Adapted to the Grammar lately published by Lindley Murray, consisting of exemplification of the parts of speech, instances of false orthography, violations of the rules of syntax, defects in punctuation, and violations of the rules respecting perspicuity and accuracy, designed for the benefit of private learners, as well as for the use of schools.

"We have been much pleased with the perusal of these Exercises. They occupy with distinguished excellence a most important place in the science of the English language; and as such, we can warmly recommend them to the Teachers of Schools, as well as to all those who are desirous of attaining correctness and precision in their native tongue."

Monthly Review, July 1797.

The Norfolk Mail STAGE.

THIS Stage starts from the GEORGE Tavern, at the corner of Second and Arch Streets, in Philadelphia, every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, at 3 o'clock, in the morning; arrives at Dover the first day, at Snowhill the second day, at Northampton Court House the third day, and on the morning of the fourth day the passengers find a safe and comfortable packet to convey them to Norfolk.

A packet leaves Norfolk for Northampton ferry, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and the Stage starts from this ferry for Philadelphia, every Monday, Wednesday and Friday; puts up at Snow Hill the first night, at Dover the 2d night, and arrives in Philadelphia in the evening of the third day.

The distance on this route, between Philadelphia and Norfolk, is 80 miles less than on any stage route between those places.

Too much cannot be said in favor of the road, which is most excellent indeed. The proprietors willingly engage to return the whole fare to any passenger, who, after having performed this route, will say that he ever travelled in a stage for the same distance, so good a road in America.

PEALE'S MUSEUM.

THIS valuable repository of the works of Nature, so well calculated to delight the mind and enlarge the understanding, is opened daily, as usual. It stands in an airy and healthy situation, and free from the epidemic that at present afflicts the city; it may, therefore, be frequented with the greatest safety.

As an Amusement, the study of Nature is the most rational and pleasing: as a Science, the most sublime and instructive. It elevates the mind and expands the heart. They

Many interesting additions have lately been made to this Museum: and the feathered tribe, containing a variety of the most rare and beautiful subjects, is now very advantageously arranged. Waxen Figures, of Men large as life (some of them casts from nature) are here dressed in their proper habits, and placed in attitudes characteristic of their respective nations. Here may be seen the North-American Savage, and the Savage of South-America—a laboring Chinese, and the Chinese Gentleman—the sooty African, and the Kamtschadale—with some Natives of the South Sea Islands. The immense variety and interesting diversity which this Museum offers to the view, may be seen but cannot be described with full effect.
